PACKERS TO TRUST BRITAIN.

Leave Their Interests in Detained Cargoes of Meat in Hands of Embassy.

Washington, May 28.—Satisfied that justice finally will be accorded them by Great Britain, representatives of Chicago packers Wednesday resolved for the present to leave their interests in detained cargoes of meat products in the hands of British embassy officials here. They left Wednesday night for the West. A tentative basis of settlement for shipments held up by the British fleet, valued in all at more than $15,000,000, has been framed and cabled to London. Word as to whether the arrangement is approved by the British government is expected soon and in the meantime the terms will not be made public.

One of the difficulties of the packers was temporarily cleared up when Ambassador Page at London cabled the department that Sir Edward Grey had given assurances that the cases of four ships and cargoes held up since last fall before the issuance of the order in council, would go to trial in the prize court June 7, without further delay. Complaint that these cases had been repeatedly postponed was laid before the department Wednesday, but a request for diplomatic action was withdrawn pending the outcome of conferences between the packers' representatives and the British embassy.

The proposed agreement now being considered would settle the cases of 27 other ships and cargoes detained under the order in council.

NO TRACE OF DR. RICHARDSON

Searchers Still Hunt for Him in Thickets on Mount Washington.

Worcester, Mass., May 28.—Searching parties are still scouring the heavy thickets and underbrush on the sides of Mount Washington for Dr. Charles Le Roy Richardson, the Cleveland osteopath who disappeared on Saturday when climbing the mountain.

Part of a nearby reservoir has been dragged without success.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them with a Veil; Remove Them with the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician, and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion, that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.—Advt.

ITALIANS OVER THE ISONZO

A Strong Advance Guard
Crosses the River 30
Miles from Trieste

BATTLE RAGING FOR THE PRAEDIL PASS

Operation Aimed at Tarvis, on Shortest Route to Vienna

Geneva, Switzerland, via Paris, May 28.—A strong Italian advance guard yesterday crossed the Isonzo river after a sharp fight with an Austrian force and arrived before the town of Monfalcone, which is 30 miles from the Austrian seaport of Trieste. The first of the Austrian wounded are now arriving at the latter place.

The Italians also attacked at several points along the 40 miles of the Carinthian frontier.

A battle between the Italians and Austrians now is raging around Ploken and also west of the Praedil pass in Austria. In Adige the fighting has been limited to skirmishes.

Italian forces which penetrated the Tyrol at Candino and other Italian arms which captured Cronona, have reconstructed the railway and are now marching on Gorizia, the capital of the Austrian crownland of Gorizia and Gradisca.

Both the Austrian and Italian aviation services are very active along the frontier. Many machines have been gathered at Venice to protect that city. A Paravial aircraft arrived by rail at Trent Wednesday from Munich, Bavaria. A Zepplin dirigible balloon is reported to be preparing to follow it shortly from Friedrichshafen.

Heavier guns have been mounted on the Italian gunboats on Lake Garda.

Several regiments of Bavarian Alpine troops Wednesday crossed Brenner pass, which is 4,485 feet high, bound for Bozen.

Between Salzburg and Innsbruck 45 trains are passing daily transporting men and material. Swiss patrols are marking the eastern frontier of Switzerland with flags to prevent incursions.

Rome, May 28, via Paris, May 28.—King Victor Emmanuel, upon taking supreme command of the Italian army and navy, issued the following order:

"Soldiers on land and sea: The solemn hour of the nation's claims has struck. Following the example of my grandfather I take to-day supreme command of Italy's forces on land and sea with the assurance of victory which your bravery, self-abnegation, and discipline will obtain."

The enemy you are preparing to fight is hardened to war and worthy of you. Favored by the nature of the ground and skillful works he will resist tenaciously, your unshaken ardor will surely vanquish him.

"Soldiers, to you has come the glory of unfurling Italy's colors on the sacred lands which nature has given as the frontiers of our country. To you has come the glory of finally accomplishing the work undertaken with so much heroism by our fathers."

King Victor Emmanuel left incognito for the front Wednesday night. Only his ministers, who were incidentally informed of the intended departure of the king, bade him farewell.

Takes King's Place.

The official journal publishes a decree appointing the duke of Genoa (Prince Thomas of Savoy), lieutenant general of the kingdom. During the king's absence he will carry on the duties of state in the name of the king, but will refer all affairs of first importance to his majesty unless they are of the most urgent nature.

Although the departure of the king for the front was kept secret, the news spread both here and in the provinces. The king is going to the front to work with his soldiers and share in their hardships and run the same risks as a divide with his generals the responsibility the occasion calls for.

Victor Emmanuel, who by nature is earnest and determined, and of a retiring disposition and opposed to any form of publicity concerning himself, did all that was possible to reach the front incognito. But all Italians knew of his movements and followed with their thoughts the train that was bearing to the front the great-grandson of King Charles Albert, who, in abdicating the throne of Italy on the battlefield at Novara in 1849, after his defeat by the Austrians, bequeathed to his descendants the sword of the kings of Savoy, which he requested never should be sheathed until the Austrians were entirely driven from Italian lands.

Except for the flags which fly not only from every house but almost from every window, home gives little indication of being the capital of a country which has entered upon a great war. While the entire nation was eager for the conflict, a spirit of calm confidence has followed the stormy scenes which were enacted from the time the Salandra cabinet resigned until it was restored to power and the demonstrations of rejoicing which followed until the opening of hostilities.

It is apparent that the nation is preparing to make without complaint whatever sacrifices the war may bring.

Connecting upon the proclamation at Empress Francis Joseph of Austria contained in a letter sent on May 23 to former Premier Sturgis, the Tribune points out that the proclamation is strikingly similar to that issued by Francis Joseph on the eve of the war of 1859. The paper declares that Piedmont at that time was compelled to overcome enormous diplomatic difficulties before facing war as leader of the Italian national movement.

Austria is charged by The Tribune with having adopted in 1859 a temporizing and threatening policy in the hope of averting hostilities. Piedmont answered by crossing the Ticino river which led to the brilliant victories on San Martino and Solferino."

STILL ATTACK KITCHENER

The Northcliffe Papers Try to Justify Stand They Have Taken

AUGMENTATION OF MUNITIONS SUPPLY

Suggest More Business for American Plants in This Line

London, May 28.—The Daily Mail and the other papers known as "The Northcliffe Press" continue the persistent campaign devoted to justifying the attacks on Lord Kitchenor on the question of the supply of ammunition. Taking as their text the constitution of the new national ministry, they point to the unexpected strength and tenacity the Germans are displaying in all the theatres of the war and the necessity of the heaviest sacrifices if the war is to be brought to the desired end.

The Times in an editorial says: "The mistake and the shortcomings will be quickly rectified. The scales are falling from English eyes and the country looks the situation in the face boldly and without dismay. Nobody now expects the war to end for a long time to come. The country is no longer blind; it has begun to see the truth, but it waits a lead. All eyes are turned to the new government in the hope that it will furnish the leadership which has been too long lacking."

The Mail in a similar editorial, says: "We can recruit almost as many men as the Germans can, and we shall need them if we are ever to accomplish the march to Berlin so loudly boasted of by optimists a few months ago."

The Mail strongly advocates recourse to the United States for ammunition.

Notable among the recent German losses, the eye-witness asserts, were those sustained by the 27th Prussian Infantry in the action of May 16-17. This organization lost 2400 out of 3000 men.

The Germans are still extracting the utmost from the country they occupy, the record says. Mention is made of one incident in connection with the recent sporadic bombardment of Lens by the allies. "Six shells fell on the Lens station," the writer says, "and the town was fired $200 for each projectile, or a total of $4800, part of which was distributed among the soldiers. The ground for the fire was the allegation that some of the inhabitants must have been in communication with the enemies of Germany; hence the bombardment."

"That some of the enemy at least are not enjoying themselves in Flanders is shown by the following message flung into the British trenches:

"We are too few to attack, too many to retire, and too proud to surrender, but we all want to go home."

A few days ago a letter was flown over our lines. On it was written: "Please send this back when the wind is favorable."

TOO PROUD TO SURRENDER

Too Few to Attack, Too Many to Retire, but All Want to Go Home, Is Message Shot by Germans into British Trenches.

London, May 28.—The recital of occurrences at the front written by the British "eye witness" under date of May 25, and given out in London yesterday, is devoted largely to the telling of minor incidents.

The account deals with comparatively small actions in various parts of Flanders, and the writer says the German losses lately have been very heavy.

"A building in La Bassée used by the Germans as a bathing establishment was hit recently by one of our howitzer shells while it was full of German officers," the eye-witness relates. "Between twenty and thirty of them were killed or wounded."

"Not far from Ypres our anti-aircraft guns brought down a hostile aeroplane, which fell headlong on a parapet of the German trenches within sight of the French line. Both the pilot and the observer must have been instantly killed. The French, noting that the falling machine was exciting considerable interest among the occupants of the enemy's works, trained machine guns on the spot and waited until a sufficient number of Germans had collected, then they opened fire on them."

Continuing, the eye-witness relates how a detachment of Germans attempting to make use of their deadly gas at Ypres, were themselves suffocated by this gas after a French shell had burst the cylinder containing it.

Notable among the recent German losses, the eye-witness asserts, were those sustained by the 27th Prussian Infantry in the action of May 16-17. This organization lost 2400 out of 3000 men.
